

Scalar Field Generator - How to start

General Description

Step 1 - Setting up the signal source

There are multiple ways to drive the emitters. The basic way to provide a signal for the emitter is by using the SFG Application. This application contains several programs and sequences. These programs are proven to be safe and beneficial. You can download the default driver application from the Google Play Store by searching for "Scalar Field Generator". Or you can use the WebGL version which runs on PC.

If you are comfortable exploring different vibrations and signal sources beyond the default programs we provide, you can then use some third party function generator app or software or youtube videos.

It is suggested to start with 528Hz (Love frequency) to learn how to connect the energy to the chakra system.

Step 2 - Connect your emitter to the signal source

There are two ways to connect the emitter to the signal sources. Some emitters are equipped with both Low and High level input and some only have one of those.

Low Level Input (Default)

The Low level inputs are the Headphone connector on your PC or Phone. The emitters are equipped with a 2.5mm audio input connector. To be able to connect your device to the emitter you will need an audio cable like this one Audio Cable 2.5mm to 3.5mm

Simply connect the 2.5mm end to the emitter and the 3.5mm end to your PC or Phone (if it's equipped)

If you don't have on your Android Phone 3.5mm Audio output then you can use alternatively some Bluetooth Transmitter or Bluetooth Amplifier. In those cases you connect the Example for Low Level input using Bluetooth Adapter and Adapter cable

High Level Input (Experimental for more advanced users)

The high level input is a wire terminal situated on the emitter. This wire terminal allows you to connect the emitter directly to a Hi-Fi amplifier output (Maximum 20W power)

Suggested 20W Amplifier:

Lepy LP-2020A Class-D Hi-Fi Digital Amplifier with Power Supply

This amplifier can manage all the emitters we produce. The emitter impedances vary between 4-170ohm depending on their configuration and production.

The high level inputs are designed to extend the emitter field density and range. With an amplifier depending on the emitter type, you can extend the field size up to 50-100 meter.

Important notes:

- Do not use the Low level and High level inputs at the same time!
- Do not apply more than 20W power on the emitters as this can lead the emitter to overheat and get damaged.
- If you notice the emitters get too hot then reduce the volume on the amplifier.
- If you are not experienced working with amplifiers and do not know how to connect them, please use only the Low level input source or seek help from someone who knows how to utilize an amplifier properly.

Step 3 - Choose the placement of the emitter

The scalar field builds up and extends progressively over time. It usually takes 30min - 2 hours to reach its full potential and size. Choose the location for the emitter in a way that if you are meditating or laying down the emitter field on Low level can cover your entire body. At Low level the emitters usually produce a maximum 2-3 meter radius field. Using an amplifier, this range can be extended up to 20-80 m radius depending on the type of the emitter and input power. Recommended to place the emitter stationary and for long term use.

Step 4 - Crystal placement and working with the scalar field

Place your clear quartz crystal in the middle of the emitter and put your phone onto the charger and you can start enjoying any program you choose. Our suggestion is to start with the 528Hz and try to connect to the field and to the crystal with your heart and mind. If your heart chakra is not open yet enough then you would probably not sense much but the device will still have a positive effect on you. Try to observe your mental state and try to dive into your imagination while you use the device. Your imagination and mental visualization have a direct driving effect to manipulate the energy field.

Suggested first usages:

Try the solfeggio 12 sequence for sleeping. We realized on low power it can bring you a very deep and energizing sleeping time. In some cases you will wake up much more balanced and have more energy as usual. Also possible that your sleep time will be reduced by 1-2 hour as the emitter speeds up the recovery and metabolism of your body. This can shorten your needed sleep time.

Try to place a transparent glass bottle of water on the emitter and subject it to the scalar field for 1-2 hour on low power. Use for this procedure the 432Hz or 528Hz . This will make the water very energized and structured. Drinking this water can support the healing and vitalizing process in your body.

What might I feel when my device is already running?

Depending on the selected program you may feel different things. It is very common that you can hear a kind of high and soft ringing tone in the center of your brain as you look and focus at the device and connect to the field mentally (the quantum coils triggering your pineal gland). You can sometimes feel a soft pressure in your heart chakra.

Keep in mind

- Important to understand that the system works with your intention and boosting your energies and your state of mind. If you are in a sad ,angry or harsh mood then don't use the device and take the crystal away from the coil (this stops the energy radiation because even if your coil doesn't run the system radiates the last programmed energies on a lower energy at least for 3-4 days) .
- Always put your intention into the crystal about what kind of energy you want to create like healing, or boosting your brain, or you just want to have calming energies. Just choose a program and put the same intention into the crystal to ensure the best performance and effect.
- High level input: we are not recommending using high power for longer than 2-4 hour one day. The field density can be overwhelming to your energy system and just like anything else the goal is to use just as much as you feel you need it. Balance is the key as in every aspect of existence. If you feel overwhelmed by the field simply use it on Low level or lower the amplifier volume.
